THE NORTH CAROLINA ADVANCEMENT SCHOOL

WINSTON-SALEM, NORTH CAROLINA

YEAR BOOK

1968

THE HONORABLE DAN K. MOORE

A MESSAGE FROM THE DIRECTOR

It is difficult to realize that this term has raced its way to completion and the time for farewells has arrived. It is always sad when one has to part from those who have shared so many experiences together.

Dr. John N. Bridgman, Jr.

However, there is a degree of happiness, also, as I see you on your way back to your homes and former schools....Happiness as I think of each of you seeking success in life and taking your place as a good citizen of our state and Nation. As you go, my best wishes go with you for a much deserved summer vacation, a very profitable school year, and a very rewarding and satisfying future. I hope that you will always remember the North Carolina Advancement School fondly and speak of it as "your school."

Please come back and see us often.

A MESSAGE FROM THE ASSISTANT DIRECTOR

Dr. James L. Howard

A famous modern theologian once wrote a book entitled, "The Courage To Be." If there is any one goal that the instructional program at the Advancement School is trying to accomplish, it would be to help you boys develop the courage to be yourselves and to become what you are capable of being.

It is now time for you to leave the Advancement School and go back to your home school. To help you make a better adjustment at home, we have attempted to create an environment which would develop your ability to make wise decisions related to your own life. Our whole program has been devoted to the belief that no one can force anyone else to do anything. It is up to the individual to decide what his course in life will be.

In order to help each of you develop this ability, we have given you a highly qualified, sympathetic counselor to guide your daily living. We have placed you in a situation which required you to establish new friendships. We have put you in an old, dilapidated building, without bells to regiment your life. We have given you an opportunity to share in the learning experience with highly qualified teachers in their own field. All of these experiences were planned in the hope that they would contribute in some small way to your acquiring the courage to accept responsibility for your own learning in years to come.

The instructional staff joins me in wishing you the best possible life as you continue to grow physically as well as intellectually. We hope you will remember the good things about the Advancement School with fondness and that you have profited from the mistakes which both you and we have made. Please remember that we will continue to be interested in you as an individual and in watching you as you make your place in society.

ADVANCEMENT ISTHE MAKING OF FRIENDS

Before January 3rd, Mr. Land and his Intramural champion "Glory Stompers" had never met. Now, they arefriends.

"Life is sweet just because of the friends we have made
And the things which in common we share;
We want to live on, not just for ourselves,
But because of the people who care;
It's giving and doing for somebody else...
On that all life's splendor depends,
And the joy of this world when you've summed it all up,
Is found in the making of friends."

Edgar A. Guest

IF you can keep your head when all about you
Are losing theirs, and blaming it on you,
If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you,
But make allowance for their doubting, too;
If you can wait and not be tired by waiting,
Or being lied about, don't deal in lies,
Or being hated, don't give way to hating,
And yet don't look too good nor talk too wise;

IF you can dream and not make dreams your master,
If you can think, and not make thoughts your aim,
If you can meet with triumph and disaster,
And treat those two impostors just the same;
If you can bear to hear the truth you've spoken
Twisted by knaves to make a trap for fools,
Or watch the things you gave your life to, broken,
And stoop and build'em up with worn-out tools;

IF you can make one heap of all your winnings,
And risk it on one turn of pitch-and-toss,
And lose, and start again at your beginnings,
And never breathe a word about your loss;
If you can force your heart and nerve and sinew
To serve your turn long after they are gone,
And so hold on when there is nothing in you
Except the will which says to them: "Hold on!"

IF you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue,
Or walk with kings--nor lose the common touch,
If neither foes nor loving friends can hurt you,
If all men count with you, but none too much;
If you can fill the unforgiving minute
With sixty seconds' worth of distance run,
Yours is the Earth and everything that's in it,
And--which is more--you'll be a Man, my Son!

Rudyard Kipling

DEDICATION

Greg Moebes

"When is the deadline, Mr. Schnabel?"

If I have heard this once, I have heard it a thousand times. From the darkroom to the cafeteria, from the dorm to a private lab in Greensboro, Greg has unselfishly given of his time and energy that this yearbook be a success. As Faculty Advisor to the yearbook committee and in behalf of the staff at N.C.A.S. , I dedicate this book of remembrances to Greg Moebes and say, "Greg, we have met our deadline."

SPRING OF WATER AND FLOWERS

by

Reginald T. Cason

Spring is here and the sun is near,
Trees are beginning to bloom;

Songs are beginning to tune,
And birds will sing very soon;

Babies play until noon,
While mothers clean their rooms;

At night the moon rises high
As bats swoop low in the sky;

Flowers roam the fields,
While water furnishes its meals . . .

Yes . . . this is Spring this year.

MY QUIET HOURS

by

Jonny Cox Grogan

As the moon begins to rise
And the stars begin to shine
I think of all the quiet things
The day has left behind.

The birds all hush their singing
And the children quiet down
It makes me feel so lonely
When I cannot hear a sound.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

This yearbook will probably be the most outstanding production of any school in North Carolina this year. It has to be because we did it OURSELVES. We had no publishing company to help us with layouts, no professional photographers taking pictures, nor any financial aid through advertising. It was a team effort starting with full co-operation from the administration and ending with much sweat from a devoted yearbook staff. We want to thank....EVERYBODY.
